[heponeko] Confession The Secret Of Machiko Matsuoka

I'm just asking for help. Here are some photos I took during a good excuse to take a few shots of a city. I really like "Bath house." Q: Hi! I'm Mimi. I took the portraits in Kyoto and Tokyo. I like a lot of cityscape photography, and took lots of those in the past. To me, they are not only scenery but also memories, which make me happy. But in such a busy city, I don't often take any shots of the people. But recently I have taken a lot of people, which I enjoy. And I thought that I can't only take and keep the shots in the whole process. Therefore, I want to request a favor. If you could write me a message on a wall of a place where you have no intention of writing and I can take pictures of your message, I'll be really grateful. Thank you very much for your help. Q: Dear sir, my name is Ken. I am currently working part-time at a non-profit organization and living alone. I live on the third floor of an old building, which has almost no connection with a main road. There is a lot of quiet. One street becomes a bit noisy after midnight, but the only people there are stores. My job is a somewhat repetitive. Anyway, I'm currently going to bed at 2 o'clock, but when I wake up in the morning, I think that I am really tired. Therefore, it may be a problem that I don't have time to work or to go out for a long walk. I like to get up early to enjoy the beautiful view from the window in the mornings. It's a difficult situation for me. I hope you can think about this and give me some help. Q: I'd like to take my family on a vacation at Christmas. My parents were active in their younger days and have now retired. They are the two people who have brought me up. My younger brother and I are close to each other, but we're no longer together like before. I wonder why my mother keeps complaining about my brother and asks about him from time to time. I really don't want to be disrespectful to my brother. It has nothing to do with my brother, but rather the rest of my family. If my mother had a vacation, she would use my brother as an excuse. However, I think that it's my responsibility to visit
