Category:Video game modsQ: How can I get the value of a column in a table that has a foreign key link with a parameter in a dropdown? I have 2 tables which are linked by a foreign key link. The first table is called (RoomAssignment) and the second table is called (RoomType). I have a dropdown menu where users select the room type. This dropdown menu is connected with the RoomType column in the RoomAssignment table. What I want to do is to display all the entries from RoomAssignment which are linked with the same room type selected. I already tried to use a query like this: `SELECT * FROM RoomAssignment AS a WHERE a.RoomType = @roomtype` Unfortunately, this will only return the entries which have the same roomtype as the currently selected item in the dropdown menu. So how can I get the entries which are linked to the selected item in
